Academic Program Overview

In their first class, students will be introduced to a challenging case. Over the course of the entire program, they will fight for their side's victory until the final decision is ultimately made by the judge. Along the way, the legal teams need to select a jury, craft and present opening arguments, and explain evidence, as well as prepare witnesses for cross-examinations and finish with a strong closing argument. By using an experiential learning approach, students will quickly engage in the topic, and the instructor introduces the underlying theory and concepts as students tackle these issues while trying to win their case.

Guest Speakers & Excursions

Last summer, students met with Mike Thompson who led them on a behind the scenes tour of the Law school, and also visited the Chief Justice of the local Superior Court. Students got to try on the Judge's robe and sit in the jury booth while learning about courtroom proceedings.

Instructors

Courses are taught by accomplished and passionate faculty recruited from many area colleges, universities and professional forums. Each faculty member is selected for their subject area expertise and proven ability to both challenge and captivate students.

Curriculum Advisor - Stuart Rennert, J.D.

While instructors vary each year, the Curriculum Advisors ensure continuity in our curriculum. This course was designed by Stuart Rennert, a partner at McKool Smith, P.C. in Washington, DC with more than twenty-five years of experience litigating and trying complex litigation cases. Previously, he helped lead the United States' RICO case against major cigarette manufacturers, United States v. Philip Morris, as a member of the United States Department of Justice. Professor Rennert is a graduate of Harvard Law School, has studied at the London School of Economics, and received his undergraduate degree from Amherst College.
