Academic Program Overview

This one-week program aims to equip middle school students with a foundation in Trial Law and expose them to the world of legal practice and education. By the end of the program, participants will have a better grasp of trial techniques, an understanding of the path to a legal career, and unforgettable memories from their exciting visits.

Excursions

In previous years, our students had some incredible experiences! They met with the esteemed Jennifer Anderson, an Associate Judge on the Superior Court of the District of Columbia. They had the privilege of visiting the prestigious Moot Court at Georgetown Law School, where attorneys often fine-tune their skills for high-stakes oral arguments.

This past summer, our students journeyed to the Circuit Court for Montgomery County and had the honor of meeting the distinguished Judge Carlos F. Acosta. They also explored the courtrooms right on the American University campus at the American Law School, immersing themselves in the world of law and justice!
